Date: 12 June 2026

Start time: 06:30am

Route: 24 mile / 38.6 km circular

Completion time: 12 hours

This Social Mobility Day, we're taking on more than a physical challenge - we're standing for potential, opportunity, and the belief that where you start should never limit how far you can go.

By taking part, you'll be helping to shine a spotlight on social mobility and supporting efforts to open doors for young people who deserve the chance to climb higher. This is about collective effort: moving at the pace of the slowest person, supporting one another, and reaching the summit together.

Conquer the Yorkshire 3 Peaks for Social Mobility Day.

Pen-y-ghent: The First Ascent

Leaving Horton-in-Ribblesdale, the route winds through fields before rising steadily towards the unmistakable profile of Pen-y-ghent. The final climb steepens, rewarding efforts with big views from the summit trig point. A zig-zag descent passes dramatic limestone features, setting the tone for the challenge ahead.

Ingleborough: The Final Push

After descending to the valley, the path crosses limestone pavements before steepening onto Ingleborough's wide summit plateau. The final descent drops through Sulber Nick and open fields, guiding you back to Horton. Tired legs, big smiles, and a powerful sense of achievement.

Whernside: The Long Climb

A gentler stretch leads past farms, tracks and the iconic Ribblehead Viaduct before the route turns uphill again. The ascent to Whernside is gradual but relentless, climbing onto a broad ridge that delivers sweeping views from Yorkshire's highest peak.

Who we are

Talent is everywhere, opportunity is not

Too many of life's opportunities for young people are still shaped by factors outside of their control. Where they were born, their family's income, their school and where they live dictate the educational and career paths open to them.

At The Talent Foundry, we believe this must change.

Our mission is to increase social mobility by helping young people from under-served backgrounds discover what they are amazing at, develop valuable new employment skills and take that first step into the world of work.

“Taking on the Yorkshire Three Peaks challenge to help young people access opportunities and build the skills and confidence they need to thrive is incredible. When the going gets tough, remember that you’re helping to build a fairer future and support our nationwide social mobility vision.

Right now, almost one million young people are not in education, employment or training. We’re working to change that by bridging the gap between school and the workplace, helping students navigate their career journeys equipped with the necessary experience and skills.

Our programmes bring the world of work into schools and take students into workplaces, opening doors to opportunity and demystifying working life. We introduce employee volunteers to students, inspiring young people to dream big.

None of this would be possible without your help, and we’re grateful for your support in taking on this challenge.”
